C110A Application

What has changed, rationale for change and testing

AS IS

C110A

Application for a care or supervision order and other orders under Part 4 of the Children Act 1989 or an Emergency Protection Order under section 44 of the Children Act 1989

TO BE

C110a

Apply for a care, supervision or emergency protection order

Rationale for change

1. Written from the user's perspective and in language that a user would recognise and use themselves.
2. It is shorter making it faster to read. In turn saving user time.
3. Simpler making it easier to read.

Name of applicant

Local authority or authorised person

Rationale for change

1. Help text gives an example of what user should fill in this field.
2. Applicant information will be pre-filled with information they entered when they created the account.
3. Current form asks for applicant information twice. The online application will remove duplication. In turn saving user time.

Rationale for change

1. Current form asks for respondent's information twice. The online application will remove duplication. In turn saving user time.
2. Current application has limited space. Users can run out of space if there are many respondents. Online application will allow users to add as many respondents as they want.

Contested ICO

Urgent preliminary case management hearing

No

Rationale for change

1. Urgency is misunderstood and one of major pain points identified was the a lot of local authorities mark applications for urgent consideration even when they are not urgent. One potential solution is to ask them to specify reason and dates for consideration. For example, need hearing before 30 July 2018 as the child is being released from hospital on 31 July 2018.
